Introduction

Today on that day migration is the whole world for the current and complex problem as a manifestation of Globalization is taking place. process, technological development, economic disparities, political conflicts and climate change people own from countries to others to move passage more and more As a result, many countries migrate currents governance, migrants rights to protect and their socio-economic integration provide for their own policies to form coercive occurs. With this together, migration processes national regions border cut its passage international to function has that migration not only countries domestic to politics impact show, can be international politics, economy and security are also noticeable in the fields to the consequences Therefore, migration management is only one state at the level no, can be internationally coordinated in scale requires an international approach. Organizations including the United Nations Organization (UN), the International Labor Organization (ILO), the International Migration Organization (IOM) organizations are in the process of having an important place in the process They are migration consequences management, migrants are right and interests protection do and countries in the middle of cooperation develop in accordance with the standards and guidelines working they come out.

Countries and their own migration processes, national legislation and policies are within the order. They are migration policies economic, social, cultural and security factors taken into account without being formed. Example for, qualified personnel attraction do, shelter give, work migration order plant such as industries of the country for priority of the tasks one. With this together, countries in the middle of migration flow control do and order to land for international agreement, contracts Migration policy effective to be for an international organization and a country between integral and mutual to interests based on cooperation important importance profession In today's globalized world, only national policies through migration processes effective management difficult international standards and mechanisms with a harmonized approach made In this sense, it is The article migration in the politics of international organizations and countries role, their migration in management cooperation, as well as global migration problems solution in this important aspect analysis to do The article is devoted to migration policies theoretical framework, practical solutions and future prospects seeing released.

Literature review

Migration policy and his/her international organizations and countries to management on the topic of a lot of scientific research take Cass, de Haas and Miller (2014) found that migration is a modern importance in the world and he/she management mechanisms are broad in scope analysis so that migration political, social and economic factors illuminate [1]. Their in my opinion, migration is the world socio-political processes of the system with closely related, and he/she in the management of international cooperation role is great. Kohse (2016) migration international on the scale of understanding and management to the issues approach, interstate cooperation and international organization migration in politics place o detail idea The author stated that national policy effectiveness, international standards and normative to documents compatibility to the level of related [2].

International Migration The International Organization for Migration (IOM) is presented in the "World Migration Report 2020" migration the global nature of flows, their management of the main problem and the international organization to take ongoing business analysis [3] Report Countries and International Organizations migration policies in harmony place , migration processes booking place new approaches Also International Labor International Labor Organization (ILO) published in reports labor migration economic importance and interstate cooperation migration consequences in governance caught role demonstration [4]. These are the sources of the country and international organizations between the mutual effect and migration policy information their responsibilities are transparent and covered. The United Nations Economic and Social Work Department (UNDESA) issued reports and international migration trends and migration in governance international correct norms emphasis [5] emphasizes. Their data information, migration in politics, national interests and international cooperation, the balance repository is of great importance.

Analysis and Results

Migration is the politics of international organizations and countries between cooperation within an important place. In this process, migration, currents, governance, migrants, rights protection, and their socio-economic integration provide such as the challenges of solving international organizations in countries migration processes order planting for regulatory frameworks in creating assistance also ensures global migration trends learn and they circle information delivery gives. The states and own in the regions migration management for legislation and policies working out, they are done increasing and control doing. Interstate cooperation, migration, and governance is an important tool. Different countries in the middle of an agreement to create, experiment, exchange and common migration standards designation through migration processes order planting becomes easier. It's not just illegal migration to prevent to get, maybe migrants are right and protection interests make the opportunity creates. Therefore, international organizations and countries in the middle of the integral and stable cooperation installation is necessary.

Migration economic aspects are also important Migrants their own labor resources with not only taking a figure country for the economy, but sent a great for countries also financial benefits. Their sent money funds (remittances) are numerous developing countries for an important source of income considered. With this together, work migration worker power shortage has been in countries empty their jobs their places filling and cost-effectiveness increase opportunity gives. Such in the situation of the country migration in the management of skilled personnel attraction do, migration processes legal and orderly in form organization achieve separate attention Migrants rights protection make the international community priority of responsibilities one considered. International conventions and transactions based on migrants basic human rights guaranteed. International organizations and countries this regarding working together through migrants regarding discrimination and discrimination circumstances to prevent are trying to get. Migrants social integration, their new successful addition to society, for conditions to create both countries policies important. This is part of the process. language learning, cultural adaptation, education and work with provide such factors as understanding is carried out.

Refugees and shelter pollsters public opinion pollers the problem of international migration in politics is the most complex and current of the directions one of the refugees protection and shelter to give international, rightly, based on the made increase in which the countries are committed to the transparent UN Refugee Agency in accordance with the High Commissioner (UNHCR) and another international organization this process coordinates. With this together, refugees are a source in countries provide stability and their return come encouragement for international cooperation separately the importance of the profession It is political stability and security to increase assistance Security and migration problems between Dependency is also taken into account. Aside the absence of terrorism, illegal migration, human trafficking such as crimes many countries security policies inseparable to the part Therefore, migration order in the field of national security interests and the person right in the middle balance storage important International organizations and countries this in the direction of cooperation made without, migration flow control do, risks identify and eliminate in the process of effective system creates.

Technologies and digital platforms, development, migration, management, new to take on the scene. Countries and international organizations information, exchange, migration, processes, surveillance and analysis in this progressive of technologies uses. This is the migration of politics, quick and effective formation in some way, as well as the migration of the current, further, more precisely, control makes it possible. With this together, digital tools through the migrant service show, their true and obligation control. Uzbekistan is also improving. In the context of migration, politics, country, economy and international relations, an important part of how it is formed. Labor, migration, order to settle, migrants, rights to protect, and remittances to encourage, policy-oriented done is increasing. With this together, international organizations with in cooperation migration processes management, migration with related problems solving grow and migration positive aspects strengthen the projects aimed at done. This is increasing. Uzbekistan international in the field reputation is increasing both economic and social to stability service Uzbekistan experience shows that it is an effective migration policy made to increase for national legislation international standards with harmonization, migration processes modern technology using control to do and migration flow order in the field of international organization with constant cooperation developed necessary. Migration politics human rights, economic interests and national security reconcile aimed at a complex system as it develops.

From this, apart from migration as a result of the coming to the surface of the coming social and cultural problems solution in international relations and international cooperation, the important importance of migrants for society integration support, discrimination to reduce and cultural diversity respect do for the connection program working It is released . processes national at the level made increase policy international experience with suitable come ensures and social stability strengthens . Migration processes, dynamics, and global trends have also brought the calls of climate change as a result on the surface coming mandatory migration, pandemics impact and other unforeseen situations migration management complexity. This is increasing. Countries and international organizations migration policy is constantly updated to go, a new strategy working requires an exit. In this process, international cooperation and information exchange is an important of the tools one. Thus, migration policy within the international organization and countries place and role further transcend they go. Connecting global migration activities currents governance, human rights protection to do and sustainable develop contributions, in addition, the decision of the actor importance of international organizations standards and recommendations working output, countries and this recommendations own to legislation integration to make migration in the management of the integral system creates. With this, together with this, migration policies are effective interstate and international cooperation, transparency and humanism principles to rely on as provided.

Conclusion

Migration in the politics of an international organization and countries is an important grass and a filler for each other to the character. Their effective global migration cooperation processes order in comparison, migrants are right and interests protection while doing so, as well as economic and social stability in providing a solution actor importance profession International organization regulatory framework creation, international standards designation and countries between cooperation coordination through migration policy information the main tool if, countries own in the regions this standard practice implementation will and national legislation are improving. Migration economic, social and cultural consequences in governance interstate and international cooperation is not only migration processes effective control to do, maybe a person is right and national security also helps with the balance gives. Uzbekistan in the example see perhaps migration policy development and international organization with cooperation this industry modern requirements and to their calls suitable accordingly made. Thus, migration in the policy is integral and constant cooperation globally through stability and progress to achieve the possible.
